Equity Reflections – How Can Data Inspire Action?

Taking Action for Fairness

Choose one way to apply what you learned:

• Equity Graph Poster → Plot graduation rates and write a caption explaining what fairness means in education.
• Peer Tutoring Project → Offer help to classmates or younger students working toward graduation goals.
• Community Research → Compare local graduation rates and brainstorm equity-focused solutions.

Creative Box

✏ Draw or sketch an idea here:
• A coordinate plane showing graduation rate differences.
• OR a celebration scene with students from diverse backgrounds graduating together.

Anchor Quote

"Educational equity means ensuring that every learner has the support, opportunity, and access they need to thrive."
— Equity in Numbers Journal
